

“Days in Clay”

A Journal of Eight Ceramic Objects

by Jan Brown Checco

Listening, thinking about the Tao te Ching, and working with clay came together in my studio during a three-month period late in the summer of 2005.

The resulting eight pieces are related to events of the period. They are a visual, touchable journal, a record of feeling and looking for answers.

- 1 Begin by Seeking Vision 8/10
- 2 A Whirlpool Becomes a Hurricane 8/28
- 3 Calling for Help That Does Not Come 9/2
- 4 Under Her Wing 9/3
- 5 The Beast Swallowed Itself 10/1
- 6 It Could Not Be Delivered 11/8
- 7 Grief 11/17
- 8 Finding New Eyes 11/23
